

T'was the night before Christmas,
Tony sat at his desk
To write something positive, truly a test

For the year 2020,
was a year like we have never had
To get it in our rear view mirror, will make us all glad

Of course caused by Corona, unlike the Mexican beer
It wreaked havoc on the world, it did not bring cheer

Loved ones not visited, elderly left alone in a room
All one could do, is see them by Zoom

The economy was grounded, the world came to a stop,
Most sports leagues simply, chose to close shop

We all took to wearing a mask, to help flatten a curve,
New protocols in place, we all must observe

But this virus we face, is but one story
We face other issues, even if not full of glory

Systemic racism, is something we must confront
For our various minorities, they seem to take the brunt

US politics a mess, Trump claims it was a fix
What is his end game, what are his tricks?

Climate change of course remains, still a hot topic
For this is an issue, we cannot be myopic

Tony thought on and on, more sad topics a plenty,
We'll never forget, the year 2020.

And as he gazed up from his Barolo, and looked at his tree
He wondered aloud, where is the Christmas glee

He refilled his glass, thoughts tumbled in his mind
When he suddenly realized, he was being blind

For the Christmas season, is a time to reflect
A time to say hi, a time to connect

For in these times of isolation, of being stuck at home
Does not mean you cannot pick up the phone.

So as he sat at this desk, he made himself a vow
To take nothing for granted, no matter how

And so from me to you, here is my hope
If we lean on each other, I know we can cope

Happy Holidays

to everyone from the team at Spagnuolo and Company

◆ 2020 ◆

Once again in lieu of Christmas cards we will be making donations to local charities
